Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Note: This is in response to an Amendment filed 07/03/2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-5, 12-16, and 23-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Slater et al. (U.S. 5,482,054).

Note in figures 1-3d, a clevis (34) having a base (40) and plurality of arms (34a,34b) extending from the base (40); an axle (28) to extend between the plurality of arms (34a,34b); wherein an end of the axle (28) includes a flared portion to engage an outer surface of one of the arms (34a,34b) and a deformed portion at an end of the axle (28) opposite the flared portion (as shown in fig. 3b) configured to engage an outer surface of the other arms (34b); wherein each of the arms (34a,34b) defines a hole to receive the axle (28); a pair of jaw (18) disposed at the distal end of the clevis (34); a handle (17) includes a spool portion (19) slidably disposed around the handle (17); and furthermore, a jacket (300) covering a hollow coiled portion (50).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 07/03/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to claims 1 and 12, in response to applicant's argument that the deformed portion as described in Slater is incapable of configured to engage an outer surface of another of the plurality of arms, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. Furthermore, examiner also believed that the clevis pin 28 of Slater configured to engage the outer surface of the clevis 34 when fully assembly. As a result, the Examiner disagrees with Applicant's remarks and has maintained the grounds of rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Slater '054 for the same reasons as set forth in the previous office action.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
